First Ward Items.—Rumor says that the saloons after 11 o'clock last night, by way of Sunday Sabbath observance, were closed. Rumor says that Jack Frost, near Bonfield, on Wednesday night, was seen to shake his head ominously, and that he was heard to say that he would be back again before long. Rumor says that Mr. Frost is a man of his word, and that he will be back again before long.

Fire in a Stone Quarry.—A fire was discovered in the quarry of Mr. Lord, near Lincoln avenue, on Wednesday afternoon, by Mr. Kirvin, Mr. Lord's foreman, and by him extinguished with the assistance of a few men. The fire originated from a bonfire, which had been built by some boys, and which they neglected to put out before leaving the quarry.

Ward Workers Rising.—The regular weekly address will be given in the dining-hall of the Ward Workers, West Lake street, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock, by Rev. C. W. Leyrloff, the pastor of the Ward. The Ward Workers will give music, and a good time generally. All are welcome. Rev. J. F. Jones, from Boston, will read several papers. All are invited.

Strange Accident.—A Norwegian emigrant, named S. Hovland, while handling 7 kegs in the car of the Wisconsin and Minnesota Railway, yesterday afternoon, accidentally allowed one of the kegs to fall, which struck the floor of the car, and exploded, blowing off the head of the keg. The contents of the keg were powder, and the force of the explosion was sufficient to blow off the head of the keg. Hovland was badly burned.

Accident to a Boy.—Yesterday afternoon, a boy, named Edward Walsh, while playing on the corner of Kinzie and Wells streets, fell from the sidewalk, and broke his left arm. He was taken to his residence, No. 87 Kinzie street.
